Luke 22:7-20

Jesus's Special Last Supper

Jesus's Special Last Supper

It was a very important day in Jerusalem. Jesus wanted to eat a special meal called the Passover with his friends, the apostles. This meal was super special because it reminded everyone of how God had saved their families long, long ago. But Jesus had something even more important to tell them during this meal. Do you know what it's like when you have something really important to share with the people you love?

Jesus called two of his best friends—Peter and John. "I need you to do something special for me," Jesus said with a smile. "Go into the city and look for a man carrying a jar of water. Follow him to his house, and ask the owner if we can use his big room upstairs for our Passover dinner." Peter and John looked at each other. How would they know which man to follow? But Jesus always knew what He was doing!

The Search in the City

Would Jesus's plan really work?

Peter and John walked through the busy streets of Jerusalem. Imagine walking through a crowded market looking for just one person carrying water! Suddenly, they saw him—a man with a water jar walking through the crowd. They followed him carefully to his house. When they asked the owner about the room, he smiled and said, "Yes! Come upstairs!" Everything happened exactly as Jesus had said it would. Isn't it amazing when someone knows what's going to happen before it happens?

A Special Meal with Special Words

What did Jesus do at the table?

When evening came, Jesus sat down at the table with all twelve apostles. He looked at them with love in his eyes. "I have wanted so much to eat this Passover meal with you," Jesus said softly. "But after today, I won't eat it again until God's kingdom comes."

Then Jesus took the bread, thanked God, and broke it into pieces. He gave it to his friends and said something wonderful: "This bread is my body, given for you. Remember me when you do this." Later, he took a cup of wine and said, "This cup is my new promise to you. It shows that my blood will be poured out for you."

Jesus was teaching His friends that His love was so big, so powerful, and so real that He would give everything for them. Just like your mom or dad would do anything to protect you, Jesus does everything to love you!

Jesus's Promise to Us

- Jesus gave His life to save all people
- When we remember Jesus, we celebrate His love for us
- Jesus's love is the greatest gift ever given

Final Question

Jesus did all of this just for you! Will you say 'thank you' and let Him lead the way in your life?
